

Canadian Centre for Diversity and Inclusion Centre canadien pour la diversité et l'inclusion

About CCDI

CCDI is a unique national charity that promotes diversity and inclusion in Canadian workplaces.

Our mission is to help our Employer Partners and individual practitioners achieve significant differences in their organizational performance by providing them with the tools, knowledge and information, and education to create more inclusive workplaces.

Our vision is to be the trusted advisor for diversity and inclusion, human rights and equity, and human resources practitioners, and the most recognized organization for diversity and inclusion in Canada's workplaces.

CCDI ties together traditional business strategy and consulting with innovative research, technology and data analysis with social purpose. As a charitable organization that thinks like a business, learning infuses CCDI's products, services and events.
