November 2018

D&I: The UnConference

2018/19
Canadian Centre for Diversity and Inclusion

Announcing new dates for 2019!

Our unique and interactive conference encourages people with an interest in diversity and inclusion as much as diversity professionals to break away from the boredom of traditional conferences with a high degree of participation – perfect for those who value networking, interactive workshops and experiential learning. In 2018, we will be hosting UnConference in nine cities across Canada.

This year's theme - Thawing the frozen middle

Why is middle management so resistant to change – especially when it comes to diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility? It's perfect storm really. The pressure to get the job done meets upstream/downstream currents, lack of motivational empathy and understanding of organizational impacts of exclusion, and lack of focused support for well-being as it relates to change. Invisibility to Inclusion (i2i) Survey

The University of Guelph requests your participation in a survey being conducted by Invisibility to Inclusion (i2i), a research partnership involving academics, business professionals, NGOs and others committed to improving the economic and social situation of people with episodic disabilities. The purpose of the survey is to explore how employers and HR managers are accommodating employees who have episodic health conditions in Canadian workplaces.
